

MANY SENSATIONS SPRUNG BY DORSEY
AT FRANK HEARING

Detective Lehon Ordered Held Under Bond for Grand Jury. Defense Vigorously Assailed in Numerous Affidavits

EPPS CHARGES FRAME-UP IN GETTING HIS AFFIDAVIT

Aaron Allen Swears He Was Left in Burns' Office With Pile of Money—Defense Offers Evidence in Rebuttal

When the hearing of the extraordinary motion for new trial for Leo M. Frank was adjourned by Judge Benjamin H. Hill at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon until Wednesday morning, Solicitor Dorsey had concluded his counter showing against the granting of the motion and the defense was well into the reading of their affidavits in rebuttal.

An order issued by Judge Hill placing Dan S. Lehon, southern representative of the William J. Burns Detective agency, under a $1,000 bond to ensure

Another interesting feature was the affidavit of George W. Epps, Jr., in which the newsboy reaffirmed the testimony given by him at the trial of Frank and told a sensational story about the manner in which he alleged he had been intimidated into signing his affidavit of repudiation for the defense. Epps swore he was carried to Birmingham by a man masquerading as Terry; that on the way to the train he was met by a man wearing glasses, who seemed to be almost blind; that on arrival in Birmingham at 3 o'clock in the evening he was taken to the hotel where

TOLD HE WAS WANTED.

He swore that Terry pleaded for his life and that Detective Kelly agreed to phone the chief of detectives; that he did telephone some one, and then informed him that the chief would not agree to his release, but wanted him held for perjury in the Phagan murder case. Finally, he swears Epps, the chief came to his room and all three of the men insisted that he make an affidavit; that he would not permitted to get any sleep and the compared the three men to the one who had been seen in the room. Burns swore he has since learned the name of the man who called himself Terry was a blond, slim, about 25 years of age. Detective Kelly" turned out to be Charles Burke, and that the chief of detective quality was a man named Burns, and that Bernard, also, in his opinion was the blind man who accompanied the other two. Burns said he had been told of the alleged efforts on the part of the Burns and his agents in Chicago to get him to confess to the murder. Mary Phagan, who left alone in the room of the Burns Agency in Chicago with great pile of money in silver and green bills, said she was not afraid and was aware he swore he never touched.

Renting in the Month of May

Yes, there are scores of May Renters and some of them are disappointed and others are not. Many pay all sorts of fancy fees and many more waste time and money in leather hunting over the city hunting window signs and looking up telephone numbers.

But the day of this latter sort of May Renter is gone. Just as the day of the window signs, for The Journal Want Ads nowadays do all the hunting for you and, in them, are always, but especially during May, the best, the really offerings for the man who wants to rent.

COUNCIL OFFERED PLAN TO BREAK UP DEADLOCKS

Charter Amendment Suggested Giving City Fathers Power to Elect Dept. Heads

A resolution calling for a charter amendment authorizing the general council to elect a chairman of a departmental board of the city when the board fails to elect within sixty days after the date set for election was introduced in council Monday by Alderman Nutter and referred, at his request, to the special committee on charter amendments.

The effect of such a charter provision, were it in force at the present time, would be to place in council's hands the election of a chairman of the police board, since this board has been deadlocked in the effort to elect a chairman more than sixty days.

Council passed an ordinance raising the salaries of associate teachers in the Girls' High school to the same basis as the associate teachers in the Boys' High school. It was the desire and intention of council members to make the raise effective January 1, 1915, but owing to a charter provision governing increases in salaries it may not be possible to start the raise until September 1, 1915.

OPEN SCREENS AFTER DARK.
An ordinance was passed allowing owners of stores, which come under the provisions of the fly screen ordinance, to open their screens after dark. Alderman Maddox introduced an ordinance making it unlawful for any person to haul a dead animal out of the city limits and requiring persons having such animals to dispose of or notify the chief of the city sanitary department. The ordinance stated that dead animals are being dumped in the town of Center Hill, and only half buried, and are a dreadful nuisance. The ordinance was referred to the city and county health boards jointly.

An ordinance was passed allowing near-shore saloons to keep open all night during the Shrine convention. Several council members strenuously opposed the ordinance, declaring the move came not from the Shrine, but from the saloon owners, and that a similar move would be made every time a convention comes to Atlanta in the future. The ordinance passed by a vote of 16 to 5.

WOODWARD VS. LEE.
Mayor Woodward and Councilman Jesse H. Lee indulged in a lively tilt concerning a batch of sidewalk assessment ordinances which were introduced by Councilman Lee, passed by council and vetoed by the mayor. The mayor in his veto message accused Councilman Lee of using his official position to boost his private business as a sidewalk contractor.

Councilman Lee "replied this with insinuation" and retorted by accusing Mayor Woodward of using his official position to hold up the city's sidewalk assessments on property owned by the A. B. & A. railroad, which property the mayor represents as agent. Council overrode two of the vetoes and sustained the other two.

Following this action, council passed a resolution directing the city clerk to place in the city marshal's hands for collection certain sewer assessments due against the A. B. & A. railroad amounting to $2,400.

PAST GRAND MASTERS WILL CONFER DEGREE

Atlanta Lodge No. 59 to Have Unique and Historic Ceremony Monday Night

For the first time in the history of Georgia Masonry, all the living past grand masters of the Grand lodge of Georgia will confer the third degree of the blue lodge on candidates in Atlanta lodge No. 59, next Monday night.

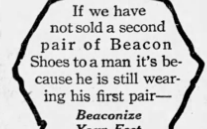

The past grand masters are Max Meyerhardt, Henry Banks, Thomas H. Jeffries, James W. Taylor and George N. Napier.

The present grand master, Robert L. Golding, will also take part in the ceremony.

A special booklet in honor of the occasion has been issued by Atlanta lodge, through its worshipful master, James M. Fuller, and its secretary, Thomas Evans. The booklet is entitled in a very attractive style and contains a brief history of Atlanta lodge, written by Walter Taylor, the city clerk of Atlanta, and pictures of Grand Master Golding and the past grand masters as named above.

First Showing of Summer Dresses

The Fascinating Frocks of Marvelous Wash Fabrics as Featured Among the Early Summer Models In Great Beauty and Abundance in Our Third Floor Display

After the first of May the "tub-frock" is the thing, since the introduction of the truly elegant and fanciful fabrics of cotton weaves, the silk gown, can hardly be said to be the one of special advantage as of yore. One need only to wander thru, the colorful labyrinth of summer frocks on our third floor to believe this:

Seasonable Street Dresses, Summer Luncheon Costumes; Dresses for Promenade, Travel, Field and Links, Dainty Frocks for Afternoon Dancing, for Formal Afternoon Affairs

Indeed no daytime occasion is too smart to admit of a cotton gown.

Ratines and Voiles, plain, striped or cross-barred; Crepes, fine as a veil, heavily corded, heavily colored, artistically combined; Linens fine and smooth or heavily woven. Styles are extremely graceful, getting back to straight lines, long single tunics, short rippling tunics—styles sensible and appropriate for washables. All have popular prices.

CLOSING OF "HEART SONGS"

WE announce, with regret the closing of our wonderful campaign in distributing the greatest song books ever gotten together—"Heart Songs." We have only copies enough on hand to satisfy the wishes of our readers who bring their coupons for the remaining few days. The advertisements that have been running in these pages for several weeks past have fully described the merits of the books and the daily readers have constituted a veritable educational course in song music. We are more than gratified at the response from our readers, and are sanguine that through this enormous distribution the refining influence of the songs will be felt for years in this community. Attention is called to the advertisements that may appear in our columns for the brief period remaining.
The coupon offer will be published daily.

Backache
"I had been a great sufferer with backache so that I was unable to bend.
A friend recommended Dr. Jones' Liniment and the first application gave me relief. One bottle entirely cured me."
"A few days ago a lady called who complained of great pains in her back.
I gave her a little of Dr. Jones' Liniment and she was relieved immediately after applying it. We are recommending it to all our friends." So writes
Mr. P. Stutzman, of Higgins, Pa.
Pains in the back are often mistaken for kidney trouble, and so-called kidney cures and plasters are resorted to, which, failing to relieve, only tend to aggravate the disease and prolong the suffering. Dr. Jones' Liniment relieves Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Headache, Croup, Cold in Chest, or any pain or ache that can be reached by external application.
Ask your neighbors what Dr. Jones'
Liniment has done for them.
Sold by all druggists.—(Adv.)

Kryptok Bifocals

Why We Make Kryptok Bifocals
and Recommend Them

First of all because of their convenience. They give Near and Far Vision in one solid glass, doing away with two pairs of glasses.
They can be more perfectly ground than any other bifoc-al known. No ugly seams or pieces to blister or come loose. We make them in Toric or Curved form, giving a larger field both for reading and distance.
Each pair is made to order, conforming to the face in every detail. Your sharp friend would never know you have on bifocals. They are absolutely invisible while on the face. They are a joy, not a discomfort. Ask some of our patients how they are pleased.

Were $2.95 & $3.50

Were $4.50 & $5.00

Were $6.00 & $7.50

Such waists as every woman needs at this season.
They are waists for service—tubbing does not hurt them.
We call them linen waists—but also there are madras and dimity waists among them—all white —some with stiff collars and cuffs, others with the low turn-back collars and cuffs.
Choose from those perfectly plain but for a few tucks, and those with richly embroidered fronts and trimmed with Irish crochet laces. The reason they are so reduced is because they are a bit crumpled—but one laundering, and a new waist.

Two Waist Novelties Just Unpacked

No. 1 $2.25

No. 2 $4.95

An airy China Silk Blouse—loose, summery, cool. The collar is a small pointed sailor affair, half-length kimono sleeves, shirred cuffs, hemstitching in sleeves and front panel.
Made on an elastic belt!
Made without hurt. White, mais and light blue.

A fresh, dainty waist that combines the service of linen and the vogue for colors in blouses.
The fabric is a light linen lawn, and it comes in flesh, Copenhagen and mais. Cut low at the neck, with a double notched collar that lies flat.
Long sleeves with pointed turn-back collars. A novelty you will like.

Distinctive Styles in Separate Skirts

Silk Skirts, Woolen Skirts

Look upon this as a display of the new styles.
Separate skirts have been pronounced by those in high authority as "good" this spring.
And this display is composed of those styles in highest favor.

Silk Skirts $13.50 to $18.75

Moires and taffetas.
One of the new notes is the long tunic that extends almost to the bottom of the skirt. Sometimes it is ruffled—and is cut back from the front waist.
Another novelty is the wide tucked girdle and square peplum at the back.
Then there are many variations of the bouffant styles and the tiered effects.
In all, an authentic display.

Woolen Skirts $5.75 & Upwards

Smartness here!
Bold plaids in colors, in black and white, blue and white, brown and white, beautifully tailored into lines of the new silhouette. With these are novel ratines in dark colors and plaids.

Remember those bonds.

Vera Cruz seems to be tickled with its new form of city government.

Many a candidate will realize today that votes are the main thing.

Vote for Grady Bonds.

If you are a true Atlantan, vote today for Grady bonds.

If you value your family's health, vote for Grady bonds.

If you wish your city to move prosperously forward, fulfilling its great human obligations and nurturing those forces that make for contentment and growth, vote today for Grady bonds.

The time has come when Atlanta must either enlarge its municipal hospital to meet the needs of an ever increasing population, or suffer an advance in the death rate and a grievous loss of prestige.

Grady hospital is crowded and overflowing. For lack of room and facilities, it is forced to turn away scores of patients who are unable to secure treatment in private institutions. It has done the best it could in cramped quarters and with meager provisions, but it has reached the extreme limit of its possibilities. It must be enlarged and improved, or fall utterly in its great task.

This is a matter that concerns the vital interests of every property owner, every citizen, every home in the community.

A vote for the Grady bonds today is a vote for Atlanta and for humanity.

Don't fail to do your duty as a citizen.

Don't forget, don't delay.

Go to the polls now, if you have not already done so, and vote for Grady bonds.

It's all over now but the count.

The rebels in Mexico are quite willing to subscribe to an armistice as soon as they have fighting control of most of the country.

We feel for Colonel Roosevelt, whose vacation is over and who shortly will have to deal with the mice boys around his editorial office.

Awaiting Developments.

The Mexican affair is now at a stage where the United States can well afford to await developments. Our occupation of Vera Cruz is unchallenged. Anxiety for Americans has been greatly relieved. We are on good terms with the Constitutionalists, whose fortunes are steadily waxing. Huerta's position becomes more and more untenable. The South American mediators are patiently and hopefully at work. Every day brightens the prospect of our emerging peacefully and honorably from the situation that has been forced upon us.

In seeing Vera Cruz our government took the necessary step of reprisal against Huerta's insults and wrongs. Circumstances which might have forced us to go further did not arise. Though Carranza seemed disposed at first to resent our action, better judgment prevailed, and a threatened quarrel with the Constitutionalists was averted. Huerta has made no effort to recover the port and, under diplomatic warning from other nations, has refrained from acts of vengeance on Americans in Mexico City. Hundreds of refugees have left the country, and these, remaining are assured of a reasonable measure of protection.

Since the United States was not bent upon conquest, it very naturally and properly accepted the good offices of Argentina, Brazil and Chile to effect a peaceful settlement of the dispute. By so doing, we gave timely evidence of friendship toward our South American neighbors and dissipated their suspicion of our motives in moving upon Mexican territory. We completed the record of our purpose to achieve every peace means before entering upon war.

What the fruits of mediation will be is as yet uncertain. Efforts of this kind invariably proceed slowly, and encounter many obstacles. But the United States has imperiled none of its rights or interests. On the contrary it has strengthened its diplomatic position and its moral force.

The refusal of the Constitutionalists to accept an armistice is not unexpected or discouraging. Every step of their success brings nearer the fall of Huerta, and his elimination has been the chief end of our government's policy.

It may be that if Huerta suddenly retires (and it is reported that he is perfecting plans to do so) the Constitutionalists will be willing to deal diplomatically with his successor, and that a peaceful adjustment of the entire Mexican situation can be effected.

Whatever may eventually happen, the United States is now in a position to bide its time. There is less danger of war than at any other stage of the problem.

The American Way.

A forerunner of American rule at Vera Cruz has given the Mexicans a new idea of the "gringo" character. They expected a revengeful foe; they have found a helpful friend. As soon as Admiral Fletcher had taken possession of the town he invited the co-operation of its civil authorities in restoring normal conditions. These worthies, unable to believe that invaders could be so peaceably disposed, refused to come forward; it seems, indeed, that the mayor went to bed, after having barricaded his door, and could scarcely be persuaded to put his head from under the cover long enough to hear a message of good will shouted through the window. It became necessary, therefore, to establish martial law, but in a few days shops and banks were reopened, business resumed its ordinary course, the people grew confident and cheerful and were soon back at their work and play, as though no guns had been fired.

Admiral Fletcher instituted a "clean-up" campaign such as Atlanta and other American cities conduct each spring. The streets and byways of Vera Cruz were swept and tidied as they had never been before. Sanitary rules were put into force. Hospital facilities were set up, and everyone, whether native or foreign, who needed medical care was freely given it.

The hungry were given food, and the humblest Mexicans were treated with all possible consideration. There was no looting of stores; what the American forces needed and could find, they paid for. The story goes that on one occasion a number of Mexican soldiers from General Mas's army strayed past the American lines and were captured. But instead of being shot, as they feared, they were entertained and, after being escorted out of camp, were sent safely on their way.

Admiral Fletcher's constructive policy is now continued by General Funston. Vera Cruz is peaceful and prosperous. Reports of the American manner have drifted through the surrounding country and many Mexicans who at first resented the occupation as a movement to conquer and grind down this country have been convinced that the President meant precisely what he said when he declared that the United States covets no foot of Mexican soil and has no quarrel with the Mexican people. The conduct of our marines and troops at Vera Cruz has given splendid proof of the American spirit and purpose.

Early indications are that Bleasie will be Huertanized.

One way to dodge a breach of promise suit is to buy a wedding ring.

We persist in optimism; and we believe the time will come when the belligerence in Mexico will show itself in nothing more serious than one member of the congress throwing an ink well at another.

A Prompt Decision on The Rate Case Needed.

For the sake of the country's common welfare, the Interstate Commerce Commission should render the earliest possible decision on the appeal of the eastern railroads for an increase in freight rates. Whether their petition is granted or denied, the uncertainty that has so long overhung this important issue should be dispelled. It has been nearly a year since the application for a rate advance was made. Voluminous evidence has been submitted and the case has been exhaustively discussed. Industry and commerce as well as the carriers themselves should be relieved of further suspense, and given an opportunity to adjust themselves to present and future conditions.

If the roads are not entitled to an increase in rates, if they do not need an increase to make their service efficient and their finances secure, their petition should be denied without hesitation. But if, as they contend, they cannot continue to meet the demands of commerce or earn a fair return on their investment unless an advance in rates is allowed, the commission should be no less prompt in granting them relief. The justice of the railroads' appeal is not a matter which the public can determine; that is the commission's province. But everyone knows that continued delay in settling this question will be very disquieting to business the country over.

It is noteworthy that Mr. Louis D. Brandeis, special counsel for the commission, concedes that the net income and operating revenues of the eastern carriers "are smaller than is consistent with their assured property and the welfare of the community," and that it is desirable "that steps should be taken as promptly as may be to increase this net revenue." His insistence that the roads can increase their earnings through greater efficiency is rather beside the point. If it be true that they need prompt relief, and that both they and the public will suffer unless more revenue is forthcoming, the remedy should not be made to wait upon a process of years.

It is primarily important, however, that the commission put an end to existing uncertainty. Business is entitled to know where it stands and what it must do. The public as well as the roads will suffer from prolonged suspense. This is an issue that affects the entire country's prosperity. It should be determined without further delay.

Except for the pessimist, the optimist would never be the big noise.

Retribution is something we feel sure will eventually overtake our neighbors.

If a man has a good digestion he attributes it to his good sense in eating.

We say just as many things about others as they do about us, but, of course, that is altogether different.

WHY

What is it that is a great mischievous thing to see who are surface eyes? You cannot history alongside of underlying a race. The PEOPLES centuries are rising.

In Mexican history and part Spanish, Revolution; an 1848 bell, a Garibaldi. Since the Spanish the course of the land. The Ancient Form, but ever the Cortez, or the Inquisition.

It has used the name of the United States, and even themselves, democracy to own ignorant hence own good. Thousands, lieve this bunk today.

The result of it is into the hands of a few duces the people to protect government to enrich the vast revenues of a fruitful education and improvement.

The eggs of Absolutism, race, superstition, and at Mexico is reaping in sowed to the wind. A re de Lara is this paragraph. The valley of Papatlan, population of 20,000 independent belongs to the rich family. Chihuahua belongs to three man who is reported the largest in the world. In the states which in recent times have followed four men, one of Diaz, own every inch of a 200,000 valued farmers—now the soil for them at an average cents a day."

The Mexicans, you will find a deceptive appearance and so matter, are fighting for the man THE PEOPLE everywhere are in Italy, in Portugal, in England, United States, namely, for the right to work for the right to their larger for the right to GOVERN THEMSELVES way, and for the right to shake their chains.

We have no quarrel with these aims. We sympathize with them. We shoot them. We want to help them, to do so.

WHY BRAZIL ACTS AS OUR "NEXT FRIEND"

BY HERBERT COBBY.

WASHINGTON.—Diplomatic bread cast upon the waters sometimes returns after many days. Brazil is acting as the "next friend" of the United States in Mexico today because the United States once saved the Brazilian bank.

When Charge O'Shaughnessy got his walking papers in Mexico about a year and a half ago, he did not mention smaller powers, offered to care for the interests of American citizens in the situation. Brazil was selected, possibly because the administration at Washington hoped that thereby the United States would have a friendly neighbor to the north ever since Admiral Benham came to the rescue of the established government in Rio de Janeiro. Brazil's navy had revolted and Admiral Mello was a general command of the situation. Rio's fortifications would not have endured a sincere bombardment from the heavy guns of the fleet. Mello had served notice upon President Peixoto to resign forthwith. Peixoto had not resigned. But the time was coming when resignation would be forced on him. Commodore Stanton reached the harbor of Rio in command of the American squadron, bearing instructions to neutrality. Stanton's arrival was a well-brought to the opinion of Washington he erred. He saluted the Brazilian flag floating over the war vessels. Mello had served notice upon President Peixoto to resign forthwith. Peixoto had not resigned. The following artists will take part in the program: Mr. Albert Gerard, Miss Anna Hunt and Mr. Kurt Muller, and will be assisted by Miss Lou Talmar, Mrs. R. T. Abrams, Mr. Herbert Goode, Miss Nattie Pearl Jones and Mrs. O'Neill Lindley.

Program for Suffrage Meeting

An interesting program has been arranged by the Atlanta Equal Suffrage association for the meeting on Wednesday afternoon at the Ansley hotel. Dr. Caleb A. Ridley, pastor of the Central Baptist church, will make an address. Dr. J. J. Hall, president of the Pace Society of Georgia, will speak on the peace movement, and there will be songs by Mr. Rodgers, music director of the Central Baptist church. The meeting will open at 2 o'clock and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

Ice Cream Festival

The members of the Center Hill Ten club will give an ice cream festival Thursday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock, and in the evening from 7 to 9 o'clock in the lawn of Mr. O. H. Starnes, opposite the Center Hill school. The public is invited. Take River car line.

The Spring Display

Of Handkerchiefs

The day when the feminine woman would carry none but an all-white handkerchief has gone by, for the woman's handkerchief that shows much color is seen on every counter and in every shop window in the land—where handkerchiefs are sold.

Some of the new handkerchiefs have a groundwork of color and are bordered with stripes in white of white. Others, with a hemstitched hem, are embroidered with wild flowers or intricate.

Plaid handkerchiefs have followed the call of fashion and are being sold in great quantities. To be sure, the handkerchiefs are not all plaid, but they are plaid in the same—blue and white, pink and white, yellow and white, and green and white.

White handkerchiefs have paid border, and many white handkerchiefs show colored hems. The hem of the spring handkerchief is noteworthy because of its lack of consistency. On one hand the hems are two inches wide, on the other they are four. On others there is a tiny hem not more than an eighth of an inch wide, applied in a contrasting color.

In the wide hemmed handkerchiefs the initials are worked in the hem in a corner, where the hem is turned and hemstitched to form a square. Sometimes this wide hem is embroidered with floral designs, just as a narrow hemmed handkerchief is embroidered.

Scallops are used to finish some of the new handkerchiefs. A very scallop, closely embroidered, is used on the narrow handkerchiefs, and a more substantial scallop in heavier linen. The scallops are done either in white or in the standard handkerchief colors, in which blue and pink of various shades predominate.

Care must always be exercised, of course, in carrying colored handkerchiefs. Although it is a small part of the total, the handkerchief is an important part, and must harmonize with the rest of the outfit. The new white handkerchief is always in good taste, for it looks well with every frock in one's wardrobe. (Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Three Little Songs

The many friends of the late Mrs. John Z. Hoke, Jr., of Atlanta, will read with interest these three beautiful verses written by her, when as Miss Harrie Stockstill she was one of the boldest and bravest of the social set of Atlanta:

A little song of the morning
When the heart beats full and free
And the road of life lies pleasant
As far as the eye can see.

The Easter day is rose and gold
The flowers with dew-drops beaded
And the heart beats with joy just
To be in this beautiful wonderful world.

A little song of the moonday
The sun in the heaven is high
And the pleasant road is dim with dust
Of a caravan passing by.

But hope lives long in the heart of youth
And ahead lie the fields of green.
The dust is thick but we know they're there
With the white road running between.

A little song of the twilight
With the pale cold moon above
And youth lies dead in the empty heart
And hope and joy and love.

The dim eyes rest on the land beyond
Where tears and sorrow cease
And the heart heritage of the years
Is the tear bright gift of peace.

HARRIE E. STOCKSTILL.

History Class to Celebrate

The Secret of Health is Elimination of Waste

Every business man knows how difficult it is to keep the pigeon holes and drawers of his desk free from the accumulation of useless papers. Every housewife knows how difficult it is to keep her home free from the accumulation of all manner of useless things. So it is with the body. It is difficult to keep it free from the accumulation of waste matter. Unless the waste is promptly eliminated the machinery of the body soon becomes clogged. This is the beginning of most human ills.

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

WEDNESDAY, MAY 6, 1914.

Neptune and Mars are both in benefic aspect today, and while the two planets rule strongly for good, Uranus and the sun are utterly adverse.

The astral government is held to be particularly auspicious for conquerors, whether they be tyro warriors or noble aspirants. The rule is favorable for victories of place as well as of war. There is a good show for the lawyers and all legal advisers, who should benefit greatly from the configuration today.

All who roam in strange places in search of adventure, whether they be merely travelers or explorers, are said to be under a lucky guidance while this configuration prevails. Discoveries of lands near the north and the great fame for a daring young adventurer are foreshadowed.

There is an encouraging guidance for business affairs connected with shipping today. Builders of war vessels may expect gain, and great activity in construction is predicted.

Brewing is subject to a rule of the stars, which promises great losses, as well as extensive gains in sales. As the good aspects of Neptune are believed to render active latent emotions for romance and mystery, courtship should be fairly fortunate while the planet is in friendly position.

Gamblers and fishermen are subject to a lucky guidance while the stars are so settled as they are today.

Women are warned against scandals and indiscreet conduct, as the conditions are said to be unfavorable to pleasant gossip and foolish conduct. A divorce of extraordinarily sensational character will shock a fashionable residence in the east.

Theatrical affairs are under a precarious rule of the stars. Trouble for stock companies is prognosticated, owing to extreme heat and other causes. The position of Mars and Neptune is read as indicating an increase of crime as the spring advances.

Tornadoes are prognosticated. They will cause great loss of property, especially in certain agricultural regions. The death of many men is cast for congress in prognosticated.

The death of many men is cast for congress in prognosticated. The death of many men is cast for congress in prognosticated. The death of many men is cast for congress in prognosticated.

Persons whose birthdate it is are threatened with a sorrowful experience, or a serious quarrel within the year. In business affairs success is indicated, but all who are employed should be exceedingly diligent.

Children born on this day may be iron-willed and difficult to guide. They are likely to attain prominence through their own talents. Taciturnity may be characteristic.

The judges were Dr. S. S. Wallace, Dr. W. N. Hughes, Dr. R. C. Fink, W. M. Buntz and H. F. Comer.

FUNERAL IS HELD FOR CLIFFORD F. HENDLEY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) COLUMBUS, Ga., May 5.—The funeral of little Clifford F. Hendley, aged thirteen, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hendley, whose tragic death occurred Sunday afternoon from a fall from his bicycle while coasting down a hill side, in which his neck was broken, took place yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, from the home of Rose Hill, the services being conducted by Rev. J. C. Wilkerson, and the interment was in Riverside.

CLIFFORD F. HENDLEY, 1200 1/2 ST. S. E. SAYS HE WAS THROWN IN CELL WITH RODENTS

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, May 5.—After being confined in a foul dungeon where he fought rats, and being marched at the point of the bayonet through the streets of Paris, Abdulhak Sada, a Syrian born American was deported by the Haitian authorities. Such was the story he told when he arrived here on the steamer Alexandria.

He is on his way to Washington to complain of his treatment to the state department.

Smart Costume For Spring

What Anne Ruttenhouse Says

The Fringe of Hair For the Few-Headed.

PARIS.—When you are not looking for it you are apt to see something new. So it was the other day at the ten hour.

I cannot see why any one should be surprised at meeting new or startling things in clothes at the tea hour in Paris, especially near the rue de la Paix, which of all short streets in the world is the most crowded with smart clothes in and out of the shops.

"With us, in America, the women take the morning for their shopping as a rule, but over here the women take the noon. The fashion makes for a smart display of the afternoon gowns that are elaborate enough for the theater at night."

The hat I saw was worn by a charming little ballerina from the opera whom one sees at the smart restaurants and for whom the dressmakers design the newest hats and gowns. It was a hat without eccentricity of line and that, in itself, is a startling fact in this age of waving fringes in the hair.

The novelty was in the trimming, which consisted entirely of natural colored rock's plumage arranged in a straight band around the hat. The red, yellow, black and bright brown plumage was deftly mingled and formed a single article of waving fringes in the hair.

Not a strand of hair showed except two approaches to the ears. This method of arranging the hair is still in its infancy and still unbecoming to those whose faces are not marked by youth and freshness. However, there is a strong feeling that the way will be found out of the dilemma that now faces women in whom the new culture is a trial and a sorrow.

The straight bang across the center of the forehead is also back in favor and it provides a little encouragement to those whose brows need a covering. The sketch shows a turban which is intended to be worn with such a fringe. It is made of black horsehair with the roses and a few green leaves. These are flattened on a plateau of varnished straw, the kind that has made friends with the world of fashion.

Whether it will last we do not know, and unless a woman has paid an extra price for her hat, she is not much concerned. She realizes that wind and sun destroy the value of the straw hat before changing fashion has made much impression on it.

Japanese Collie Hat. That queerly shaped hat introduced by Suzanne Talbot as a fantasy has many admirers, but few followers. It should serve admirably for the kind of hat worn because of its lightness, its cool color and its shading from the ears to the face, the neck and the ears.

She makes it in the usual straw that we get from the east in its natural color and at the top of the crown, which is a miniature sugar loaf, she mounts three tan and pink feathers. This arrangement is too conspicuous for the average American, but the shape is good.

CAVALRY TRANSFER HIS CHATTANOOGA MERCHANTS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 5.—Local wholesalers and jobbers estimate that the absence of the Eleventh cavalry which is now seeing active service in the arid zone at Trinidad, Col., will result in a loss of practically $50,000 per month to Chattanooga merchants.

Uncle Sam was a heavy purchaser of forage and fresh vegetables in addition to canned supplies. The cavalry was absent at least three months and perhaps longer, as Trinidad is nearer to the Mexican border than Chattanooga.

It is estimated that the regiment will be absent at least three months and perhaps longer, as Trinidad is nearer to the Mexican border than Chattanooga.

Try it often. Cook the spaghetti for 25 minutes or so with some red wine tomatoes. Serve with powdered cheese and bread and butter. Makes baby good eating. Good for rest cure.

Muscle Food for the Hard Toller

The man who TARTS HARD needs nutritious food. He needs a concentrated food—a food that is easy to digest. And the price of the food must be cheap.

That doesn't mean that the food itself needs a lot of meat (as many people think) for there are other foods equal to meat in nutritive value.

Take Faust Spaghetti, for example. A package contains four times more nutrition than meat—it is rich in glucose—it is easily digested and you can make a whole big family meal with it.

The Diminishing Dollar

The Government is making more dollars every year—and so are you—and the dollars are just as large as they ever were, but they are actually smaller in purchasing power than ever before. The problem is to make a dollar go as far as possible in purchasing the necessities of life. For a dollar you can get one hundred and that means a hundred wholesome, nourishing breakfasts. If you add coffee, milk and cream a deliciously nourishing Shredded Wheat breakfast should not cost over five cents. Shredded Wheat Biscuit is the whole wheat prepared in digestible form. It is ready-cooked and ready-to-serve—a boon to busy housekeepers with growing children.

Shredded Wheat Biscuits

Always heat the Biscuit in oven to restore crispness. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with hot milk or cream will supply all the energy needed for a half day's work. Deliciously nourishing when eaten in combination with sliced apples, stewed prunes, sliced bananas or canned or preserved fruits. Try toasted Triscuit, the Shredded Wheat wafer, for luncheon with butter, cheese or marmalade.

From Alabama

ATHENS, Ga., May 5.—Georgia placed itself in the southern championship Monday by decisively shutting out Alabama out. Score, 11 to 0. The game was a one-sided affair from the start, the drizzle became a downpour and put the game off for a few minutes. The cleared up and game started once more.

Ed Hitchcock pitched a grand game for the home team. He only four hits and one run reached third base. Only two errors on an excellent day. Alabama boys eating out of his hands all the time. The opposing pitcher could not get a hit in the first inning. A great game getting eleven out.

A timely warning has come from the director of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service. He is concerned with our friends, the salmon, who come from the peddlers, who are busy just now selling them. Says George Otis Smith, director:

The cleverness of some of these peddlers is nothing short of marvelous. Recently a pamphlet has come to the attention of the Fish and Wildlife Service under the name of "The Lands of the Northwest," and states that the lands owned by the United States Government are to be sold to the public, and that a naval petroleum reserve will be established. The pamphlet is a fraud. In fact, the government has no intention of selling the lands, and does not intend to make a naval petroleum reserve in this part of the Northwest.

Certain of the lands were withdrawn from sale, and are now pending examination, and the sale of the lands is pending.

In another case a company's advertisements printed during a stock-exchange boom in 1929, were found to contain a reference to Uncle Sam. What your Uncle Sam thinks about and without saying so definitely was asked to convey the impression that the company was a patriotic one. It was reported upon the property favorably. In this particular case, says Mr. Smith, the government was not at risk 10 cents on the oil possibilities in this district.

It is a case where the promoters of the government has passed or merits of oil land Mr. Smith says the government is not at risk 10 cents on the oil possibilities in this district.

Washington, D. C., and ask for facts. You can find out exactly what the government is told in the promoters' literature.

It is practically impossible for a general investor to buy stock in an oil company that is any good. Explorations and new developments properly the work of the experienced operator, not the amateur investor. Investment in the average investor's hands is a sure way to lose money. Beware of the oil stock booster!
